

Commercial & Non-Residential Fire Risk Assessments

Jones Hargreaves Fire provides fire risk assessments for offices, industrial and logistics properties, retail premises, hotels, educational buildings, healthcare environments and other non-residential premises.

Our assessments are undertaken in accordance with the principles of PAS 79-1 and consider the particular use, occupancy, management and physical characteristics of each property. The review covers potential ignition sources, combustible materials, people at risk, means of escape, fire detection and warning, emergency lighting, active and passive fire protection, firefighting equipment and management arrangements.

Rather than producing a generic compliance checklist, we provide a risk-based assessment with clear findings and proportionate recommendations. This helps responsible persons and property managers understand what needs to be addressed, why it matters and how actions should be prioritised.
